Getting help in this course
INSTRUCTOR OFFICE HOURS (VIRTUAL): MTh 11:30-12:30

The best ways to reach me are:

- Via e-mail: you can e-mail me at any time at the address given above. I generally respond quickly; during the work week from 9-5 you can expect a quick response. On weekends and holidays responses will be a little slower, but should be within 24 hours. If you haven’t heard from me after three days, feel free to e-mail me again.
- Via Office Hours: during this time I set up a Teams meeting that you can join without appointment. This is a great way to ask questions or get help that might be more difficult through e-mail.

I will always contact you through your UTA e-mail account, so please make sure you are checking that address. I will also make announcements on Canvas, so make sure you are regularly checking Canvas.

Course Information
CLASS MEETINGS
This course is listed as fully asynchronous and as such students will never be expected to attend a synchronous lecture. All lecture videos and materials will be posted to Canvas and can be accessed weekly by students. Students will be expected to participate in group discussions as well, to be done via Teams channels. This will begin in Week 3.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE CONTENT
This course explores the relationship between language in the U.S. and social power and how negative attitudes toward some language varieties and languages spoken in the U.S. arise from social factors, rather than features of the languages themselves. In addition to studying language varieties, the course shows how American institutions such as the educational system and the media reinforce these negative attitudes and contribute to discrimination. This course satisfies the University of Texas at Arlington core curriculum requirement in Language, Philosophy, and Culture.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES
Students who successfully complete LING 2371 should be able to do the following:
• Have developed awareness, appreciation and respect for the multitude of cultures in the U.S. and be able to describe the ways that these are both accurately and inaccurately portrayed. [Personal Responsibility objective]
• Identify and demonstrate an understanding of the basic concepts and terms used in analyzing language and social variation. [Critical Thinking Skills objective]
• Describe differences between descriptive and prescriptive approaches and attitudes toward language. [Communication Skills objective]
• Collect aspects of linguistic phenomena for description and analysis (i.e. conduct basic research). [Critical Thinking Skills objective]
• Reflect on different experiences of diversity and multiculturalism. [Social responsibility objective]

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS AND OTHER COURSE MATERIALS
• Additional reading provided online via Canvas

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS
This course will be conducted primarily on Canvas (uta.instructure.com). All materials and activities, except for the textbook, will be provided in Canvas. Office hours will be held on Microsoft Teams and it will also be used for discussions and communication. In addition, you must have a word processing program adequate to create well-formatted documents and assignments.

If you are unfamiliar with Canvas, I recommend looking at the Student Orientation to Canvas module: https://uta.instructure.com/courses/17157.

A webcam is not required for this course, and all platforms for this course will be accessible on mobile devices and tablets.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION
This is an asynchronous course and as such there is no attendance requirement for lectures. However, students are expected to participate in group discussions done via Teams. Due to the nature of this course, this type of discussion is crucial.

Grading Information

Grading Policy
Students are responsible for all information and assignments given out in class during the semester. Failure to hear back on a request for information does not absolve a student from their responsibility for assignments or quizzes.

FEEDBACK
Grades will be posted on Canvas about a week after assignments are due. You can access your grades and feedback by entering the Canvas course and selecting “Grades” from the course menu.

HOMEWORK (25 PTS X 4 = 100 PTS)
The homework assignments are usually due at the end of the week and cover material from the previous topic. All homework assignments will be submitted via Canvas.

READING QUIZZES (5 PTS X 9 = 45 PTS)
Reading quizzes will be taken on Canvas and are due Fridays at 5pm. They are open book and will cover the material from the assigned reading. Once you begin taking the quiz, you will have 15 minutes to submit it. Your lowest quiz grade will be dropped.

DISCUSSION (10 PTS X 8 = 80 PTS)
You will be assigned a small group for the semester. You will need to meet with your small group once a week and complete a short discussion assignment. You will be provided a Teams channel to meet virtually with your group.

EXAMS (215 PTS)
There are three exams in this class: two mid-term exams worth 80 pts each and a final exam worth 55 points. There are no exam make-ups unless under extraordinary circumstances (i.e. family emergency, illness, etc.) and written documentation will be required to make-up a missed exam. If you know of some reason in advance that you cannot take an exam, let me know as soon as possible.

FINAL PROJECT (60 PTS)
In this project, you will need to explore one topic that interests you that has come up in class. More details to come.

EXTRA CREDIT
Extra credit may be available at various points throughout the semester. However, completion of an extra credit assignment guarantees you neither full nor partial credit for that assignment.
